3.	Disclosure of any potential or perceived conflicts of interest - Chairperson announced Would anyone like to raise a potential conflict of interest? A conflict of interest arises when a committee member has an opportunity to use their position, or information they know from being in that position, for personal gain or the benefit of someone else. Our duty is not to prevent conflicts of interest. They can be common and in some cases they are beneficial, such as when a committee member is also part of a business that may be able to supply cheaper or free goods or services to the club. Rather, our duty is to ensure that conflicts of interest are declared and appropriately managed. Declaring a conflict of interest is simply a matter of announcing it at meeting. The club have a register of declared interests. If a conflict of interest is declared at a club meeting, as well as being noted in the minutes, it will also be entered into the register of declared interests. As an example, conflict of interest could arise if our club is calling for quotes to complete some printing work in its offices, and your family runs a printing business. As soon as you realise that you are in a position to influence a decision of the committee that could benefit your immediate family, you are in a conflict of interest situation. ● [list conflicts] ● [list conflicts]	For Noting	5 min
